DIRECTOR OF SCHOOL SAFETY PROGRAMS
HUBER HEIGHTS SCHOOLS

"I was very impressed with the program and even learned a few ideas I hadn't considered before! Very well done and I'm glad that our school system is ready to adopt this kind of system for protecting our kids!"

- Samantha Ruebel
TEACHER

I am a school board member and teacher at Pipestone Area Schools. Our staff all went through the ALICE video learning presentations last spring and today we just finished with the classroom/active shooter training. I kept hearing comments from our staff like: "This is the best in service we have ever attended." "Money well spent by our school district." "I feel so much more in control and prepared if a shooter would come in our schools." I participated in all areas of the ALICE training and I was extremely impressed with the content area covered, the thoroughness of the training and with how much I learned. I want to thank ALICE and Mr. Tirollo for an outstanding learning experience."

- Kristin Ploeger

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER
PIPESTONE AREA SCHOOLS

"I believe that preparation and rehearsal are key to fighting against violence in school. This program appears to empower young people to be proactive versus reactive. Thank you for providing this service; my children are in grade school and soon entering middle school."

Empower your staff and protect students.

ALICE Training empowers staff and students to participate in their own survival using proactive options-based response strategies in the face of violence. When ALICE response strategies are implemented, unwilling participants in the violent critical incident are empowered to choose their best survival option. Seconds count during a violent event and the actions taken in between when the event begins, and law enforcement arrives, are significant and can increase survivability.
